“The Motion-Picture Poet”

Drama Writer | Performer | Event Coordinator

The Function of freedom, is to free someone else - Toni Morrison

TALK TO ME, SO YOU CAN SEE...

PAGES Matam (They/He) is a genderqueer med-school dropout turned award-winning poet, drama writer and performer born and raised in Cameroon, Central Africa. A pleasure activist (word to adrienne maree brown) and agent of imagination, they love battle-horror anime and fried plantains as much as crafting work centering Queer Black liberation.
